

YOUR CRICKET STARS

BY Mystic Meg

Gemini (Paggers: 6 / Did not bowl)
As the radiant Sun aligns with Pluto in your lifestyle zone, someone may surprise you with an offer that you can't refuse, such as opening the batting.
This is an eclipse of deeply hidden feelings bubbling up and over. Expect to be told to "get on with it."

Scorpio (Robbo: 0 / 1-2-2)
With the total eclipse in your eleventh house, you are ready to make some much needed changes - maybe start with the team for Thursday night's game
At the end of a long hot day, your opposite number will mutter the words "can we play you every week?"

Capricorn (James G: 14 / 0-17-2)
With the intensity of the lunar eclipse in zone three your week is all about changes of perspective - forget about winning, just enjoy it
You're a brilliant team player but beware of making all the contributions on behalf of others - you won't get much back in return

Aries (Williams: 9 / 1-2-1)
Make this the week you include more fresh raw veg into your diet because after the amount of pizza you will consume tonight, your body will thank you for it
The full moon eclipse asks health questions you know you need to answer, so you can move forward - which may be difficult with those dodgy knees

Taurus (Frazer: 2, Did not bowl)
How you communicate matters as much as what you say - don't be disillusioned by the lack of responses to the hundreds of WhatsApp messages you will send to try and get a team and locate the f%&king kit bags
You will make an unplanned telephone call today (from the outfield asking for the pizzas to be delivered 15 minutes earlier)

Zodiac Love Guide to find the perfect batting partner

Cancer (Church: 13 / 0-11-2)
Stand your ground and don't insist on that quick single which could end up running you out
MYSTIC MOTTO: "I focus on the positives in my life, rather than the fact I left the kit bag at home"

Leo (Roffers: 3 / 0-4-0.3)
Look honestly at what you really need, from love and from life - from this, so many good changes can flow. Say yes and take the time to play yourself in.
A friend may be an inspiration. It's wise to trust your instincts, as they could make the difference between future loss or gain

Virgo (Wilsers: 0 / 0-18-2)
A brief stay (at the crease) is coming back on to your radar
With the lunar eclipse occurring in your second house, you may have an intense focus on all-things cash based this week.

Libra (David, Roffer's mate on debut: 11 / 0-9-2)
An opportunity might come your way that you've never tried before
What a performer you are, as Jupiter's charisma and the emotional appeal of Venus both shine so strongly in your chart. Think twice about accepting the inevitable offers of a permanent place

Scorpio (Dan, Frazer's mate on debut: 8no / 1-15-2)
You fascinate everyone who comes near you today - with full moon mystique your beautiful drive for four in the final over will create squeals of delight from your new teammates
ECLIPSE INSIGHTS: You may find yourself in certain groups, on every level of life, that do not necessarily match your personal opinions or ambitions.

Sagittarius (Busted: 1no / Did not bowl)
The eclipse helps you see straight through fake friendships - the warmth you feel from others, may be not be genuine and they may just want you to make up the numbers
Take the time to build trust in your relationships, even if they are with your furry friends
